2 Miners Rescued; Condition Excellent

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—Joking and singing all the way, Henry Throne and David Fellin were lifted to the surface today unharmed in a safety harness from more than 300 feet underground where a mine cave-in trapped them 14 days ago.

The rescue climaxed a drama that caught world-wide attention; a drama mixed with faith, courage, frustrations and the heart-warming stream of good humor that flowed constantly from Throne, 28, and Fellin, 58.

But the joy was tempered with concern for the third trapped miner, Louis Bova, 42, who was last heard from a week ago today. He was separated from them by 25 feet of debris, and four efforts to drill a small lifeline hole to him — like the one which reached Throne and Fellin — have been unsuccessful.

Throne started up at 1:50 a.m. and reached the surface at 2:07 a.m., a 17-minute trip he described as "the best ride I ever had." Fellin started at 2:33 a.m.

and reached the surface at 2:41. His rescue took 8 minutes and 15 seconds.

Although grimy, both men appeared in good shape when they reached the surface.

H.B. Charnbury, Pennsylvania secretary of mines, reported that drilling of an escape hole to Bova similar to the 18-inch shaft used to free Fellin and Throne, was started at 6:45 a.m. Only a handful of workers were at the scene when the drilling of the 17½-inch hole began.

Charnbury said a new three-inch lifeline drilling toward where Bova is believed to be also would be started shortly.

The men were examined in a first aid tent, then quickly removed by two helicopters to the Hazleton State Hospital nine miles away, where a special ward was prepared for them.

Throne and Fellin were pronounced in excellent shape by physicians who examined them after their 14-day ordeal.

Dr. Peter Saras, who examined

Throne, and Dr. Anthony Fidulla, personal physician to Fellin for the past 10 years, said they were both amazed that the miners survived in cramped quarters in such excellent shape.

Saras said Throne's blood pressure when he was brought to the surface early today was down a little from normal but considered very good. Fellin's blood pressure was normal.

Saras said he didn't expect Throne to remain in the hospital for much longer than 48 hours. He will be x-rayed and given heart and other psychological tests later today.

Fidulla said he planned to keep Fellin in the hospital for about a week just to make certain everything is all right. He said Fellin came through in fine shape, and that his mind was clear.

Saras said Throne's blood pressure rose slightly after he was transferred to Hazleton Hospital where both men were given a complete physical examination.

"Throne was absolutely in good spirits," said Saras. "He had no complaints except for a swelling in his right hand which he had bumped on some coal and suffered lacerations."

Ira Mills, state commissioner of mines who had arranged a news conference, said he was told by Fellin and Throne that they managed to keep warm in their 9-by-14-foot cubicle where temperatures dropped to about 50 degrees by breathing on each other's backs and massaging each other's legs.

Fidulla said Fellin had suffered quite a swelling of the feet due to the coldness in the mine but it was really nothing and could be attributed to the fact he was older.

Saras said he asked Throne what he thought about in the mine and Throne replied that in the beginning it was food because for the first six days there was nothing to eat.

Contact was not made with Fellin and Throne until almost six days after the cave-in. Then shortly before midnight on Aug. 18 a six-inch lifeline hole reached them. Food and other supplies were dropped to them through this hole.

Fidulla said Fellin, a Roman Catholic, "is a spiritual man and he (Fellin) thinks it was a prime factor in coming through."

Fidulla said Fellin told him that "after the first seven days he was confident he could come out safe. He said he prayed."

Fellin was given a hamburger, soup and coffee while Throne had a hamburger with all the trimmings, two bottles of beer and a stogie.

The wives of both men were waiting for them at the hospital.

Mrs. Fellin, a Roman Catholic, made the sign of the cross, prayed and wept tears of joy when she received the news that the rescue had been accomplished.

At the hospital the men were first helped into tubs to wash off accumulation of grime. Shortly before 4 a.m. Fellin wondered when he could see his wife.

He had another request, too: for a sandwich, soup and coffee.

At 4:08 a.m., just five hours short of two weeks after her husband had disappeared in the mine, Mrs. Fellin was reunited with him. She had been kept waiting almost an hour in the hospital after his arrival.

Finally the word came, and she moved solemnly into the room, threw her arms around him and wept on his shoulder.

"Don't cry," said the miner as buoyant as ever. "I'm all right. I'm all right."

The safety harness, pulled by a winch and cable arrangement, had been considered only for an emergency but it worked smoothly. Charnbury and other officials changed original plans to use a steel capsule because of a bend in the 18-inch escape hole which caused fears that the capsule might catch.

When Throne announced the harness would be used, he asked his listeners to say a prayer for his safety. When he was up!

"I'm coming up!" yelled Throne as the harness ropes snapped taut about him. "I'm coming up!"

"Boy what a ride this is," said Throne half-way up.

At one point, when he was stopped because a tangle developed in his communication line and a rope, he remarked that the ride feels "like a chute-chute at Coney Island."

Near the top he asked, "What kind of a moon is out?"

When told there was no moon, he quipped: "No moon?" Holy mackerel there, Andy."

When Throne, wearing an orange helmet and blue coveralls laced with the lifting strap, hit the surface, the crowd broke into a tumultuous shout.

"He's up! He's up!"

There was applause, cheers and whistles when Throne was rushed past the crowd to a waiting helicopter. He was wrapped in a blanket and appeared exhausted.

Throne reported he had plenty

Eisenhower Jolts Senate On Test Ban

Ex-President Asks Anti-Aggression Reservation In Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has jolted Senate sponsors of the limited nuclear test-ban treaty with a call for an anti-aggression reservation to the pact.

But Democratic leaders got immediate Republican help in an effort to comply with the five-star general's proposal without having to renegotiate the Moscow-signed treaty.

Eisenhower wants the United States to reserve the right to use nuclear weapons to halt any aggression involving its vital interests.

He endorsed the treaty Monday in a letter to Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. But the former President said he had one reservation in mind.

"The reservation that I suggest would provide that in the event of any armed aggression endangering a vital interest of the United States this nation would be the sole judge of the kind and type of weaponry and equipment it would employ as well as the timing of their use," Eisenhower wrote.

Some witnesses have expressed the fear that the treaty would bar the United States from furnishing nuclear weapons to an ally under attack.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana told reporters that this proposal—one of the reservations previously suggested by Adm. Lewis L. Strauss, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission—already is "inherent in the treaty."

Mansfield said that if it were

In 'Fair' Condition 3 Receive Injury As Car Hits Pole

An East Liverpool man and two district youths were injured severely early Monday night when their auto went out of control on the West End section of the East Liverpool - Wellsville "super road" and crashed into a utility pole in a traffic island at the junction with Shadyside Ave., police reported.

All in "fair" condition at City Hospital, the injured are:

Lowry Marshall, 52, of 344 Grant St., the driver, due for surgery today after suffering a dislocated hip and a severe laceration of the skull.

Henry Berry, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Berry, 445 Penn Ave., Midland, compound fractures of both legs, concussion, contusions of the chest and cuts of the scalp.

Fred Wright, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wright, 933 Commerce St., Wellsville, a possible skull fracture and a possible leg injury.

Officers said Marshall's 1957 coupe was demolished when it crashed into the utility pole at 6:20 p.m., causing the windshield to pop out and fly 150 feet.

Unable to obtain a statement from the driver, the investigating officer, Patrolman J. A. Walsh, reconstructed some of the details from physical evidence at the scene.

He said evidence showed the car was headed west on W. 8th St. "at a high rate of speed" when it struck the curb on the north side of the street. The auto continued along the curb, then went onto the traffic island that divides the Shadyside Ave. lanes at the junction of W. 8th, he said.

Rubber marks "burned" onto the concrete indicated the car first hit the curb at Church St., he said.

Marshall was cited on a reckless driving charge. He is due for a Municipal Court hearing when released from the hospital.

No one was injured in two minor crashes reported Monday.

9 Will Take Test For Fire Chief's Aide

Nine city firemen will take a promotional examination to fill the vacancy of assistant fire chief Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in Council chambers at City Hall.

The Municipal Civil Service Commission will conduct the test for the $435-a-month post which was vacated earlier this year when David Anderson resigned.

Signing up to take the test were Firemen Merle McShane, who has been serving as acting assistant chief, Gerald Goodballet, John W. Taylor, Adolphus Knott, James Curry, Harold Fry, Frank B. Shone, Donald Hancock and Clarence Snediker.

In promotional examinations only the name of the man with the top grade will be certified to the administration for appointment. In original examinations, the commission certifies the top three men with the appointing authority permitted to select any one of the three.

In the notice to firemen, the commission specified only firemen with 24 months or more service were eligible to apply.

The eligibility list established by the examination will remain in effect for two years.

The Commission also said it will accept applications until Sept. 12 for an examination Sept. 25 to fill a vacancy as an operator at the sewage disposal plant.

The commission said applications may be obtained at Mayor Bert H. Goodballet's office or from commission members. A fee of $1 must accompany each notarized application.

Applicants must be between 21 and 51 and must have been a legal resident of the city and of the United States for at least six months.

The post pays $345-a-month and duties are to "operate and maintain a variety of primary sewage treatment plant equipment, and with some supervision participate in the operation of secondary sewage treatment plants, to keep the required operational records and to perform related work."

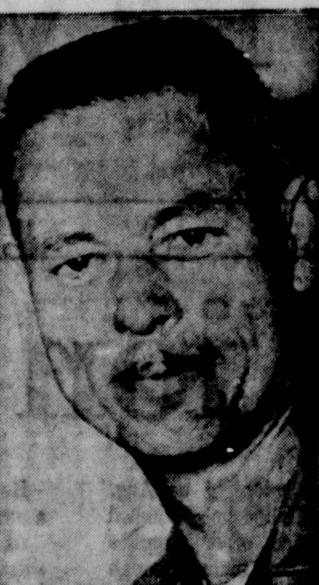

The vacancy was created when James Mitchell, an operator, was appointed as a maintenance man after scoring the high grade in a promotional test.

EATON, Ohio (AP)—Gary Lies Burda, 17, of Eaton was injured fatally Monday when he fell from a truck on Ohio 127 about two miles north of here.

DONALD RAMSEY
Leader Of Troop 60.

Scouter Returns From Session At New Mexico Site

Donald A. Ramsey, 1326 Pennsylvania Ave., has returned from the 1963 national Farm - City Scouting Conference held at the Philmont Training Centre on the 137,000-acre Philmont Scout Ranch at Cimarron, N. M.

Ramsey has served nearly three years as scoutmaster of Troop 60, sponsored by the St. Ann Catholic Church. He was one of nearly 200 scoutmasters selected to participate in the sessions.

The conference was held to study the newest and most effective program ideas and "outreach" methods geared to the changing population patterns. Scoutmasters attended from 32 states. Each was selected on the basis of "outstanding service to youth and community."

The scoutmasters were presented with a scholarship award made possible by the Sears - Roebuck Foundation and members of the National Rural Relationship Committee of the Boy Scouts of America.

Ramsey was accompanied to Philmont by his wife, Mrs. Frances Ramsey, and their sons, Jonathan, 13, and Donald, 7.

Quartet Unit To Host Event

Plans for visitation of area units were made when the East Liverpool SPEBSQSA Chapter met Monday night in the Elks Club ballroom.

Don Schussler was named chairman for the event scheduled Sept. 30 when members and guests of the Toronto, Steubenville, Cambridge and Sebring Chapters will attend.

Glenn Hart, president, conducted business. The chorus accepted an invitation to sing for the Cherokee District Boy Scout Jamboree Sept. 14 at Chester City Park.

About eight members are planning to participate in the chorus to sing near second base at the ball game at Forbes Field Friday night in Pittsburgh. The chorus will be comprised of Tri - State area chapters.

The group will serve as ushers for the annual parade of Sweet Adelines, Inc., Sept. 28 at Westgate School.

Glenn Woods directed a practice session. There will be no session Monday due to the Labor Day holiday with the next meeting Sept. 9.

Street Crews Repaint Signs In School Zones

Preparing for the start of the 1963-64 term on Sept. 3, street department crews are continuing to repaint traffic warning signs in school zones. Safety - Service Director Robert Owen said today.

The director pointed out the huge letters "School" will be painted on pavements in each school zone, as well as at spots where youngsters cross in large numbers regularly on their way to and from the buildings or bus stops.

The annual painting of pavements is one of the preludes to each new term. In addition, the city will restore traffic lights to normal operation in school zones. When classes are not in session, the lights are turned off or switched to amber and red blinks.

City Air Force Officer Reports To Dixie Base

Second Lt. Nick Musuraca, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Musuraca of St. Clair Ave., has reported to Shaw (S.C.) Air Force Base. He was graduated from Denison University in June under the Air Force ROTC program.

Scott Musuraca, another son, a graduate of the 1963 Class of East Liverpool High School, has enrolled as a freshman at Dayton University. He will major in school of business.

Beth Musuraca of Alexandria, Va., has concluded a four-day visit with her parents. She is employed at the Pentagon with the Air Force.

Hancock Fills Faculty Posts

Ida Calvarese, Liberty; Mrs. Lois Will, Marlinton Heights; Mrs. Willa Salter, Dunbar; Miss Kathie Fager, Cove; Miss Charlotte Morgan, New Cumberland, and Mrs. Maxine Mountjoy, Chester. One vacancy remains at Chester Intermediate, Hall said.

The salaries of principals were established and accepted by the board.

The contract for coal went to Charles N. Crago of New Cumberland on a bid of $7.45 per ton. The Govey Coal Co. of Chester bid $7.50.

The contract for bus insurance went to the Nationwide Mutual Insurance Co. of Columbus, with W. M. Vulgamore as local agent, at a cost of $1,607.66.

Student insurance will be provided by the Reliance Insurance Co., with E. G. Jackson of Chester as agent, at a cost of $2.50 per pupil. Each parent will be given the opportunity to secure the policy.

The contract for milk was awarded Weir Cove Dairy of Weirton on a bid of 6 cents per half pint. Four others bid. One firm bid 5 cents per half pint but offered to serve only one district, not the entire system.

The resignations of John T. Robison of Well High School and Virginia Thomas of Cove School were accepted.

Junior high coaches were approved. They receive $60 per month for a nine-month period. They are Michael Ramora, Ed Dofka and Lawrence Schomberg, Weir School; Richard Cole, New Cumberland; Keith McClung, Chester, and Thomas Piccirillo, Wells Junior High.

All teacher assignments were approved. There are four vacancies in the system — two elementary post and two high school posts.

The board authorized William Kellen, architect, to obtain bids for a blacktop road from Route 2 into the new Oak Glen High School.

The board also approved the blacktopping of the roads, parking area and bus turns around the school. This was an alternate not accepted when the general contract was let for the new school. The Knowlton Construction Co., general contractor, will do the job at a cost of $31,475.

The board also approved purchase of stage curtains and lights for each of the small theaters in the new buildings at a cost of $9,465 each.

Supt. Hall pointed out funds were not available for these items when the general contract was awarded. The building fund money was invested in the State Sinking Fund at Charleston and has earned $200,000 interest. This is being used for these projects, he said.

Transportation schedules for the entire county were approved.

The St. Joseph Holy Name Society was granted use of the Weir High auditorium Oct. 13 for a rally. The Chester Arts Club will use Chester High auditorium Nov. 11, Feb. 3 and April 15 for operettas. The Hancock County Centennial Committee will use Weir High auditorium Wednesday for an orchestra concert.

In each case, the group must provide the board with an insurance policy before using the property. This is according to a new ruling issued by the state attorney general. Any organization not directly connected with the school system must comply. Parent-Teacher Associations and Boy Scout units sponsored by PTA groups or schools are not affected.

Joyce Cornell, a 1963 graduate of Chester High School, was granted permission to attend Oak Glen for science and Algebra I at no cost.

A two-day workshop for all teachers in the Hancock system started Monday at Weir High and ends today.

Various educators were featured speakers. Discussions were held on teaching materials. Next board meeting is Sept. 9.

Hammondsville Boy Suffers Car Injuries

A 3-year-old Hammondsville area child was hospitalized with injuries suffered when struck by a car Monday at 1:35 p.m. on Jefferson County Rd. 55 four miles west of Irondale.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said Christopher A. Rose, son of Lloyd Rose of Hammondsdale R. D. 1, was struck by a car driven by William T. Griffith, 75, of Irondale.

Griffith told officers he saw children playing along the road and slowed his car. The child then darted into the path of the westbound vehicle and was struck by the headlight, officers said.

The boy was treated first by a physician and then admitted to City Hospital. He was in "fair" condition today with a possible concussion and lacerations and abrasions of the face and head.

THIS DEMOLISHED AUTO was carrying a local man and two area youths when it smashed into a utility pole at W. 8th St. and Shadydale Ave. Monday night. Hospitalized after the crash were Lowry Marshall, 32, of Grant St., the driver; Henry Berry, 18, of Midland, and Fred Wright, 14, of Wellsville. Police said the auto hit a curb near Church St., then careened into the utility pole. The missing windshield was found 150 feet from the scene.

118th Event At End

24,000 Unofficial Total County Fair Attendance

LISBON — Columbian County's 118th annual County Fair ended a five-day run Monday with an attendance of 2,500, bringing to 24,000 the unofficial total. Official figures should be available next week, the Fair Board said.

While attendance yesterday was only about half that of the other days, the grandstand admissions were approximately 1,800 for the two performances of Gene Holter's Wild Animal Show.

The secretary's office said 500 saw the matinee and 1,300 the evening show. Salineville High School Band furnished the music yesterday. Horse pulling contests were held morning and afternoon.

Fair Board members said they are well satisfied with the public response, particularly the attendance of 5,000 Sunday. This was the first year for a Sunday fair.

An entry in the ostrich race last night collided with an automobile leaving the infield parking area and made a dent in the right front door.

Herbert W. Osgood of Youngstown, the automobile driver, reported the mishap to the secretary's office. The ostrich glanced off the auto and went on to win the race.

Rudibaugh teams won first money and more rosettes for their stalls in horse pulling contests next Monday.

Dick Rudibaugh, Lisbon, won first in the light-draft contest for teams under 3,000 pounds, while his brother, Dale, of Wellsville was first in the heavy-weight contest.

Other money winners follow in order:

Light draft: Bob Foster, Minerva; Dale Rudibaugh; Henry Geringer, Winesburg; Louise White, Tippecanoe; Everett Cain, Berlin Center; John Sterbach, Orwell; Lester Kehl, Salineville; Sam Trimm, Salem.

Heavy-draft: Earl Anderson, In.

Bob Foster; Ray Cox, Lisbon; Joe Fieldhouse, Leetonia; Kehl; Jim Barber, Salineville.

Scores of ponies and horses competed in the 15 classes of the horse show Sunday night in front of the grandstand. Winners in order of finish:

Class 1 — Child's saddle pony, riders under 12: Janice McCrea, Alliance; Lester E. Hazel (rider-Butch Hazel), Lisbon; Cozy Neuk Pony Farms, and James McLaughlin, Salem.

Class 2 — Spotted horse, Western tack: Norman Miller, North Canton; Joe Miller (Diane Corso), Steubenville; Lester E. Hazel (Marsha Hazel), Lisbon; Gary Booth, New Waterford.

Class 3 — Shetland pony under 46 inches, fine harness: Linda Johnson, Columbian; Donald Wilson (Wendell Wilson), New Wilmington, Pa.; Joe Weir (Elmer Garner), Minerva; C. E. Bowersock, Lisbon.

Class 4 was for three — gaited horses but there were no entries.

Class 5 — Lead-line class: Janice McCrea (Danny Hutcheson), Alliance; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Swartz (Carol Ann Swartz), Girard; Gloria Bilek (Kathy Bilek), Poland; June Kacenski (Kenneth Kacenski), Columbian.

Class 6 — Plain color horse, Western tack: Stokley Stables (Jenny Stokley), Richmond; Bob Grimes, East Liverpool; Harry Bennett, Lisbon; Delmar Knecht, Lisbon.

Motor Fumes Affect Man Asleep In Car

A 32-year-old man was saved from possible asphyxiation early today when police smashed a window and pulled him out of his parked car, where he had gone to sleep with the motor running.

George R. Hritz of Canton was unconscious from the effects of carbon monoxide gas when pulled from his parked car about 1:10 this morning on E. 4th St. in front of the Mary Patterson Memorial, officers said.

Admitted to City Hospital shortly afterward, Hritz voluntarily left his bed at 3:15 a.m., refusing further treatment, police said.

Patrolman Karl W. Samples was dispatched to investigate after a woman resident of the Mary Patterson Memorial telephoned Patrolman Robert Duffy, desk officer, and reported that a man was asleep in a parked car with the motor running.

Officer Samples said he found all the doors of the auto were locked. About that time, Patrolmen Paul Carter, K. J. Montgomery and David Mumaw arrived. The officers tried unsuccessfully to awake the man by hammering on the car. As a last resort, the police broke a window in the car, pulled Hritz out and threw water in his face in an attempt to revive him.

Unable to restore the man to consciousness, the officers removed him to the hospital in a cruiser. He was examined and admitted, police said.

The auto was examined at a garage. Police were told the tail pipe was missing, which permitted carbon monoxide fumes to seep into the car. The floor-mats in the front compartment of the auto also were loose, aiding the fumes in entering the car, police said.

The police report termed it an accident case of near-asphyxiation.

Envoy Urges Safety For Refugees In Haiti

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Eight Latin American envoys have demanded that Haiti guarantee safety of 44 refugees granted asylum in their embassies here.

The diplomats asked the Organization of American States Monday to demand that Dictator-President Francois Duvalier grant the refugees safe exit from Haiti.

About 15 attended the meeting with Chief Laverne Seckman of Old Fredericktown Rd. at which plans for the delivery were aired.

The group originally scheduled to make the trip will obtain the truck next month.

Chief Seckman gave a talk on safety procedures at fires.

Next meeting is Sept. 9, the scheduled meeting Sept. 2 canceled because of the Labor Day holiday.

Are The Bars Being Let Down?

"Is the state relaxing its drive against gambling?"

The question was prompted during a discussion of the 19 federal gambling stamps which have been issued to 18 establishments in Columbiana County in contrast to none during the previous fiscal year.

We don't know. We certainly hope not.

Most of the stamps in question, as pointed out previously, appear to involve pinball machines. When such devices are operated illegally, they should go the way of slot machines and other gambling equipment.

Too often the pinballs are found at places which cater to youngsters of high school age. Adult patronage of such machines is bad enough, but teen-age patronage is even worse.

The sooner law enforcement agencies crack down on such operations the better.

Bingo also entered into the discussion. It's no secret that some games are in progress throughout the county. They should be stopped.

Not that we have anything against bingo as such, but it's simply a case of the games being contrary to state law.

So-called legalized bingo in Dayton was abolished by a Montgomery County Common Pleas Court ruling last week.

Judge Robert L. McBride delivered the decision in a suit which questioned the authority of Dayton's city manager to permit bingo for charitable purposes.

The judge offered this pertinent comment in declaring the game was contrary both to Dayton city and state law:

"As for the moral aspects, the city man-

Justifiable Cut In Foreign Aid

The House Republican offensive that chopped more than $1 billion from President Kennedy's foreign aid request deserves a round of applause from anyone who shares concern over the soundness of the American dollar.

The continued loss of U.S. gold reserves, the result of an excess of spending over receipts in international transactions, has become a profound economic problem. And the billions this country is doing out in foreign aid is one of the chief contributors to the problem.

While President Kennedy is well aware of the balance of payments deficit, he has rejected the theory that cutbacks in foreign aid spending will help ease the problem. It is difficult to follow his thinking.

PERHAPS if the President brushed up on his history he would recall that before the U.S. got into the whapping big foreign aid business, the American dollar was unquestionably sound.

During the early post-war years, the U.S. exported about twice as much as it imported. Accounts were balanced largely by American loans and grants and by liquidation of gold and dollar assets held in this country by foreigners.

Accumulation of U.S. gold hit its high-water mark in 1949 when American reserves totaled $24.6 billion. Then the foreign aid program began to grow and the U.S. gold influx reached a vanishing point in 1950. A reverse flow gained headway as foreign production and foreign exports expanded.

From 1949 through 1961, U.S. spending for foreign aid, imports and overseas production exceeded by $24 billion receipts from foreign countries. Of that amount, foreigners converted $8 billion into gold.

In the span of 13 years, U.S. gold reserves have shrunk by $7 billion and foreign claims on the U.S. have increased $27.1

Potomac Puzzle

A new government survey is supplying fresh ammunition to those who want a tougher minimum wage law to reduce unemployment.

They are drawing a bead on the large group of Americans who work more than 40 hours a week. They argue that there would be more jobs for more people if millions of citizens did not put in long hours of overtime.

It's a spread-the-work argument. A strengthened minimum wage law is being pushed because an employer is more likely to hire extra workers if he has to pay time-and-a-half to employees who put in more than 40 hours a week.

The new survey was made by the Labor Department. It shows that 15.2 million Americans work overtime but that 10.7 million do not receive premium pay.

Many of the 10.7 million are in retail stores, restaurants, hotels, laundries, gasoline stations, canneries and other establishments that are exempt from the wage-hour law's overtime requirements. The contention is that extending the law to these workers would open up jobs for the 4 million unemployed.

But it is far from cut and dried.

The Labor Department looked at the kinds of jobs that overtime workers are holding down. It discovered that unemployed workers do not have the qualifications that many of the posts call for.

FOUR MILLION of the overtime workers are executives, professional and technical personnel. Another 2.6 million are craftsmen and foremen and there are 617,000 farm workers.

After taking out those that now collect premium pay for overtime, the survey shows that there are 5 million clerks, salesmen, semi-skilled workers and laborers who work overtime and do not receive higher pay for the extra hours.

But not all of these workers represent po-ential job openings even in the unlikely event that Congress were to bring them under the minimum wage law.

Overtime requirements fluctuate greatly during the year. Some employers would rather pay overtime as needed than call on new workers who will not be required day after day.

Many jobs are in seasonal industries such as canning. Some are in places that jobless workers do not want to move to. Some provide only a few hours of work a week.

Moonlighters are another target of those who are trying to cut unemployment but yet one more Labor Department survey suggests that the jobless problem will have to be found somewhere else.

There are now 7.5 million moonlighters. They add them to the 15.2 million people who work overtime at a single job and there are 22.7 million Americans — one-third of the working force — who put in more than 40 hours a week.

FORBIDDING the moonlighters to work at their second jobs would provide little help for the unemployed.

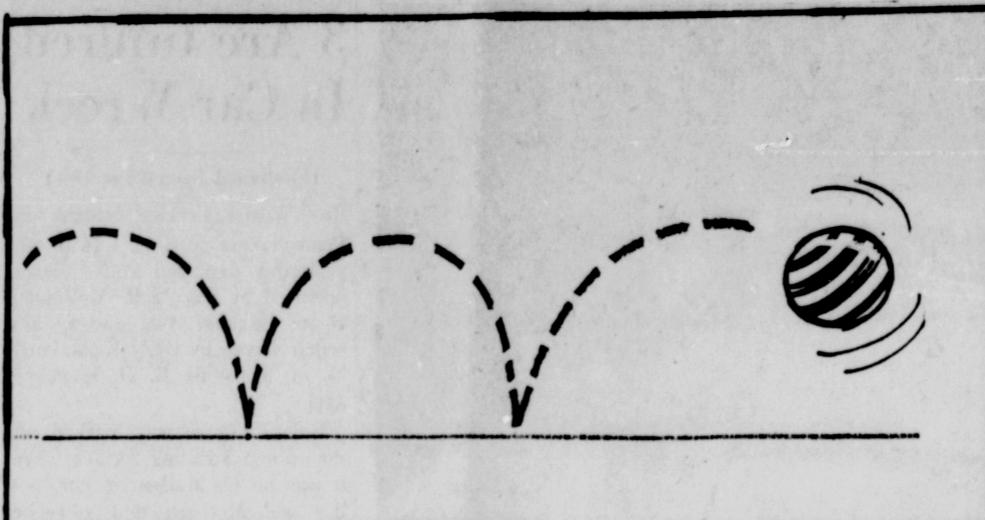

The government has found that many moonlighters operate their own farms or businesses. A substantial number are managers and professional workers who have skills that are in demand. A large number of the moonlight jobs are not in the communities where the unemployed workers are.

Actually, most moonlighters don't really moonlight. The Labor Department discovered that only 32 per cent work at night. The rest work during the day and on weekends.

Reds Turn To Dominican Republic

By Victor Riesel

SANTO DOMINGO, D. R.
It's the documented opinion of President Juan Bosch and some of his intimate advisers, with whom I've spoke, that this island of Hispaniola, crowded between Cuba and Puerto Rico, actually is Fidel Castro's next objective.

This would give the Cubans a base from which to fan out among the new and still weak island nations which run in stepping stone formation down to Communist-dominated British Guiana.

President Bosch and his colleagues believe that too many observers are absorbed by the melodrama of Castro's guerrilla cadres and terror squads on the South American continent.

Here, in Dominica, I was told, the Castro apparatus is no less ominous though it has switched to quieter tactics. But the action squads are there.

These are the "burbas" which actually declared street warfare against U.S. property and officials not too long ago.

If the first five months of U.S. Ambassador John Martin's duties here, his auto was burned. The U.S. Embassy was picketed. His children's school was invaded by a stone-throwing mob. He and his family were surrounded by jeering crowds. This led to rumors that he had been assassinated.

And the Communists have a beachhead here. They dominate the Dominican Union of Organized Workers—known as La Union. It has seven affiliates.

ONE OF THESE is the stra-te labor organization covering the storage and distribution of oil and other fuels. Thus a general strike in this area would paralyze

the news and struggling nation.

Troops would have to unload and distribute the gasoline. This would not please the Communist organizers. They always make a propaganda profit when they provoke either the military or the police into action against strikers.

The Communists also are successfully concentrating on white-collar workers—a strategy they have devised especially for Latin

America. In some South American countries they control the bank workers—which gives them access to all the credit secrets of business, industry and the nation.

Here, the extremists dominate some 20,000 government employees. Last May 7 they called a general strike of government employees. Much of the Dominican governing apparatus was stalled.

There were street riots.

President Bosch had to break the strike and quiet the rioters with tear gas, though he knew the Communists would use his actions for propaganda purposes

throughout the Caribbean and Latin America.

The Communists did it once.

They may try it again. They await the strategic day. Chaos is their business. It could topple this government.

That would start a chain reaction in a vast area the U.S.

cannot afford to lose.

"My stand on civil rights is clean, gentlemen! ... I say the burden of taxation must be carried by all, regardless of race, color or creed!"

What Is Integration?

By David Lawrence

More Points Raised On Racial Issue

What really is meant by the word integrationist or segregationist? These terms are widely used nowadays, but accurate definitions are lacking and there is a good deal of carelessness displayed in using them. Is an integrationist, for instance, someone who believes in intermarriage? David Lawrence of the races, and is everyone who doesn't favor intermarriage to be labeled a segregationist?

Some light is thrown on the subject by Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. He was interviewed the other day on a TV program called Ladies of the Press. Naturally, he was asked about intermarriage as a part of the civil rights program. He replied:

"Well, we've moved into that area some time ago. We have secured, for example, the repeal of a number of laws that formerly existed in some of the other states.

"This is a continuing program of ours on which we do not place high priority and, therefore, it isn't pursued with intensity—but it is pursued. Our basic feeling is that there must be no legal interference with two persons who wish to get married and especially ought there to be no interference on the basis of race and color.

"Where such laws exist, this places a Negro woman, for example, at a distinct disadvantage because she does not have recourse to the ordinary social protections that are inherent in the marriage statutes and in the paternity statutes, and so forth."

What Mr. Wilkins says, in effect, is that intermarriage is included within the concept of dual rights in the civil rights program.

HENCE IT'S an essential part of what is termed integration, at least on the constitutional side.

If, under state law, it is a violation of equal rights for a hotel to refuse to receive two male Negroes, it would be a violation of the same rule to turn down a Negro and a white who are married and ask for hotel accommodations.

How many of those who proudly proclaim themselves integrationists would accept the intermarriage thesis? Some would concede that it's theoretically a violation of constitutional rights for states to impose any barriers against intermarriage of the races. But the law should give them equal privileges, if they choose not to forgo their way into places where they think they might not be wanted, and if they prefer instead to mingle on the social side primarily with their own families?

There's also a good deal of intellectual dishonesty in arguing that everybody who favors forced segregationists?

And there is also Cortisone and similar drugs. Injections or pills of these hormone-type compounds give extremely rapid relief even to the most afflicted victim. But doctors don't like to use them because they carry the danger of stirring diabetes and other serious ills. So the doctors save this treatment for emergencies — when asthma threatens, when a youngster has to take an important examination, or a performer must give a TV or stage show.

Unfortunately, there is no complete answer to hay fever. The drugs don't work for everybody. Neither does desensitization. And besides, it's a drawn-out process. So the pollen will probably keep people sneezing for some time to come.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

Where's Annie?

If your heart breaks on occasion (as mine does) with a recollection of all the redheads who have left our lives, then be apprised that the old ticker should be in good shape for the week of Sept. 9, when it will be put to massive strain.

At 11 that week, on the daytime version of a game show entitled "To Tell the Truth," the guest panelist will be that consummate, ineffable redhead, Ann Sheridan.

YOU MAY be dismayed to note that the girl's autumn tresses have been trimmed; but the profile is as dangerously sharp, the eyes ever bit as blazingly wicked, and the other charms as desirously sexy as ever they were in "Torrid Zone" or "They Drive By Night," or the score of other rouser-dousers from the violent heyday of Warner Bros.

"I'm not a gamester," she was saying the other afternoon in a Manhattan place called Sardi's East, "but a toothache of mine introduced me to the pleasures of game shows."

"I was going through this tooth trouble in Chicago and in an awful sulk, and I took to watching daytime TV. Took my mind off everything. 'To Tell the Truth' is much more interesting than the stuff that comes on at night."

"WHY AM I going on? Because they asked me. I haven't been on these things in the past simply because they didn't ask me. Now, I feel, I'm working my way up to 'College Bow.'"

In she, Annie was asked, interested in working?

"Oh, I'd like to do a musical, the right on. But movie musicals don't seem to come across, do they? I've seen a number of the old great ones on TV, and they've been terrifying. They don't hold up."

When it was suggested to her that a stage musical could be made out of her old melodramas, she said, "Sure. We could open up with the 'Gaucho Serenade' I sang in 'Torrid Zone' wow! followed by the hula from 'Navy Blues.'"

MISS SHERIDAN does not talk so flippantly, however, about her favorite role—that of Randy in "King's Row." Only it and "I Was a Male War Bride" and "City for Conquest" hold up on their television return, she feels.

About the last-named: "You somehow don't mind the dated clothes."

And the first: "But, oh, they've cut the devil out of it."

With each appearance of an old Sheridan movie on TV, a brisk and would wear out four taxes.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Skip Comments About Absent Friends

I once heard of a bridge club of about a dozen persons, in which any person being absent from the regular meeting might be discussed, and not always in complimentary ways, by those present. I heard one member say she always tried to be there to make sure she would not be Dr. Garry Meyers talked about.

YOU MIGHT lead this child to see that you will try to help the other parent to understand him better. Also you will try right then and there to help the child understand this other parent's viewpoint and attitudes. Most of all, you will try to tell the child about good and lovely traits and in the other parent.

About the worst practice is for either parent to suggest to the child, "We won't let Dad (or Mother) know about it." As a rule, no parent or grandparent can afford to conspire in hiding "secrets" from either parent.

Imagine what might happen to the peace of mind of the child, grandparent or parent who often is a party to such secrets.

What we grandparents and parents should ever strive toward is a relationship to the child and to one another which will result in mutual faith, trust and companionship.

Twenty-six questions and issues:

If you and I often engage in such at gatherings of our friends, we will probably incline to do so in the presence of our children when some of our friends are in our home; also when with our family alone.

A good rule for all of us parents to observe is not to discuss other absent persons at all except when we can magnify their commendable traits and achievements.

A related insidious practice is for one parent to speak to a child or children in a rebuking tone about the other parent in his or her absence.

Sometimes, in private, a child

County Receives Data On Charges For Streetlights

Special assessments against owners of 61 pieces of downtown business property to pay for a new street lighting system were certified Monday to County Auditor Kenneth Bell's office for collection.

The assessments will be listed on the tax duplicate for collection with real estate taxes, along with a 3 per cent service charge added by the auditor's office for the collection, Council Clerk Lawrence Zollinger said.

Zollinger said 46 property owners paid assessments totaling $4,212 before the deadline Friday. Of the total assessment of $8,213, 61 property owners still owe $4,001.

Property owners agreed to underwrite the cost of the new lighting system in an improvement project launched by the East Liverpool Merchants Association.

The Ohio Power Co. is expected to have the new poles and fluorescent lights installed by Nov. 1.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our son is 11 years old. He goes to dancing school where he is learning poise and ballroom dancing. Most of the boys and girls in his class are 10, 11 and 12 years old.

Last night the class had a party at the home of one of the little girls. It was not a date affair. Each child was brought by a parent and was to be picked up by midnight.

Our son told us this morning that he had a terrible time because of a game called "Heaven or Hell." The boy takes the girl who is "it" into a closet and for seven minutes he can either kiss her (Heaven) or hit her (Hell). Our son said he didn't want to hit a girl and he didn't want to kiss one either. According to him, the girls liked the game but the boys didn't.

My husband is boiling mad over this and he wants to take our son out of the school. I have mixed emotions. Wouldn't it be a shame if he lacked poise and didn't know how to dance when dancing is so important to popularity these days? — BEVERLY HILLS MOTHER.

Dear Beverly: Who gave your husband poise lessons? Mine, too — and they survived somehow, didn't they?

Take that kid of yours out of that silly dancing school and put him in a YMCA swimming class. An 11-year-old boy should be playing baseball, climbing trees and wrestling with other boys. He should not be "kissing or hitting girls in closets."

Parents who push such young boys into adult situations force them to play-act. The best these poor kids can do is imitate what they imagine is adult behavior. Youngsters such as yours, who are cheated of precious childhood years, become burned-out has-beens at 17.

Tortured Tenants

Dear Ann: Is it all right for the landlady to roam freely through our apartment, eating and smoking and sticking her nose into heaven knows what?

I'm one of six single girls who live in this very convenient building. The units we rent are not sumptuous but to us this is home. We don't own anything of value but the idea that someone can come in and snoop around is maddening.

The landlady will not permit us to change the locks on our doors because she says she must have access to our apartments in case of an emergency. Is there something we can do? None of us wants to move. — THE CLIFF DWELLERS.

Dear Dwellers: The landlady may indeed have the keys to your apartments but she has no right to use those keys except in a real emergency (fire, escaping gas, etc.). Many leases say so. If yours does not, perhaps it should.

In some states the landlady could be prosecuted for illegal entry if she invaded your apartments just to snoop around.

Finis To Romance?

Rollie for almost six months. Several weeks ago we sat down and had a long talk. We agreed the romance had cooled and that we had lost interest in each other. There were no harsh words — you might say the romance just died of natural causes.

Yesterday when I heard Rollie is dating a girl friend of mine I decided to give him his fraternity pin back. I looked high and low and can't find the pin anywhere.

Do you feel I have an obligation to replace it? Or shall I wait until he asks and then tell him, "Too bad, Friend, I lost the bloomin' thing." Thanks for your help. — DOORNAIL ROMANCE.

Dear Doornail: Since Rollie hasn't mentioned the pin he probably doesn't attach much importance to it. Say nothing. If he should ask for the pin later, you have an obligation to replace it — if he wishes you to.

Dear Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

and Throne on Aug. 18 and through which food was lowered them, have failed.

All three miners were trapped in a cave-in Aug. 13 but Bova was separated from Throne and Fellin by a wall of debris and was believed about 25 feet away from them, reportedly injured. He has not been heard from since last Tuesday when Fellin reported he made contact with him.

Fellin, 58, and Throne, 28, while being examined by doctors, said they could not believe that Bova was dead. They said he probably still lay trapped under a pile of rubble and that the search should continue.

Fellin suggested that a hole should be drilled about six feet east of the lifeline hole through which contact was first made with them. The drilling began promptly.

Bova's wife was not at the rescue site when Fellin and Throne were pulled to the surface. A relative said she had been under great strain and had been taken to a hospital Monday night.

$120,000 Fire Hits Warehouse In Akron

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Fire destroyed Clupper's furniture warehouse in Cuyahoga Falls Monday night and caused an estimated $120,000 damage.

Police and soldiers broke into pagodas and arrested hundreds of monks and nuns in an attempt to halt Buddhist demonstrations against the government of Diem, a Roman Catholic. Buddhists, whose protests have included ritual suicides by fire, claim they have been deprived of freedom to practice their religion. Diem has denied it.

In absolving the military, Washington appeared to be placing the blame on Diem or his brother, Nhu.

The entire diplomatic staff of South Viet Nam's embassy in Washington resigned Monday to protest "repressive measures against Buddhists, professors and students."

In Washington, the State Department said Vietnamese military leaders had no warning of the anti-Buddhist crackdown Wednesday that touched off the new crisis.

of room coming up the shaft, so much that he was bouncing around and hitting the sides of the rescue hole.

"Keep on going! Keep on going!" Fellin shouted as he came up. "This is the best ride I ever had."

At one point he sang a few bars from "She'll Be Coming Around the Mountain." Then he asked those on the surface: "Do you want another song?" He was told to wait until he reached the surface.

Fellin was snagged in the lines about half-way up but he was quickly freed.

"She's doing nicely," he said. "Keep coming. It's working like a clock. Happy New Year. Everything's okay! A beautiful ride."

Fellin was cheered as he reached the surface. He covered his eyes with one hand and the point of a blanket and waved feebly with his white, gloved right hand. His face was grimy like Throne's. He was wearing a blue plaid shirt over his coveralls.

DOROTHY H. SMITH, deputy state secretary of mines, broke into tears as Fellin reached the surface. Fellin, who has been a miner since he was 15, spent several minutes talking with various persons in the first aid tent. They included Charmbury and Smith.

Fellin and Throne directed much of the rescue operation via a microphone lowered to them. They had been given up for dead before the lifeline hole reached them on Aug. 18.

Throne, and Fellin spent 329 hours in their tiny, dark, cold cubicle on a steep slant whose upper end is about 308 feet from the surface.

This is where the escape hole reached them Monday night after three attempts and hours of drilling shouted dramatically as a giant drilling rig churned through to complete the escape hole at 6:23

p.m.

Smith commanded Mike Rank,

the drill operator: "Take it up,

Mike. Take it all the way up,

Mike. You did a good job."

Workers ran an American flag up on the 65-ton drilling rig.

Watching from about 200 yards away, the wives of Throne and Fellin cried tears of joy. Bova's wife bowed her head, holding back tears.

"We'll even feel better tomorrow when we can hold their hands and I'll be getting the best bartender back into my tavern," said

Mrs. Throne as she wiped away

tears.

"Oh, I'm so happy, so happy," cried Mrs. Fellin. "I'm still shaking. It's one week and six days and a half. I said he'd be up by Sunday but I'm not going to holier him at home because he was a weakling."

Workers jumped into the air, cheered and laughed.

Charmbury said the 18-inch shaft for Bova would be started about six feet east of the six-inch lifeline hole through which Throne and Fellin received supplies.

Asked if he thought Bova was still alive, Charmbury said:

"Fellin said it was possible that he is still alive."

O'Toole Cools Dodgers On 5-Hitter, 3-1; Cards Win

Los Angeles Lead Cut To 5½ Games

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Wanted: Man to join first-rate firm. Short hours. Good salary. Bonus in October if successful. Only requirement—must have bat with base hits. Call collect, Walt Alston, Los Angeles Dodgers. HURRY.

There's no doubt that's the Dodgers' big need.

Jim O'Toole again emphasized the fact Monday night, holding the National League leaders to a mere five hits as the Cincinnati Reds survived a two-men-on-the-same-base situation and posted a 3-1 victory.

It was the Dodgers' fourth loss in the last five games, and trimmed their lead to 5½ games over second-place St. Louis. Los Angeles now has managed to score only four runs in the last 35 innings and collected just 36 hits in five games.

The only Dodger regular hitting over .300 is Tommy Davis, the defending batting champion who is stroking away at a .328 clip. No Dodger is among the leaders in home runs or runs batted in and collectively the team is hitting a mere .250.

The Reds pulled a page from the Dodgers' book and wound up with two men on second base in the sixth inning after Vada Pinson singled and Frank Robinson walked. Pinson was picked off, and in the rundown, both runners stood staring at each other on second. Robinson was ruled out.

Pressure On Ralston In National Singles

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—If tempestuous Dennis Ralston can adequately demonstrate that he's grown from a Peck's Bad Boy to an angry young man the United States may be on the way toward regaining its long-lost tennis prestige.

The acid test of the 21-year-old Californian with the checkered tennis past begins Wednesday on the carefully manicured courts of Forest Hills' West Side Tennis Club in the U.S. National Singles Championships.

Ralston, the rangy stylist from Bakersfield, is seeded third behind bounding Chuck McKinley, the Wimbledon champion from San Antonio, Tex., and Australian Roy Emerson, the Australian and French champion. Rafael Osuna of Mexico is seeded fourth.

The tourney proper begins Friday, but qualification eliminations for the huge field of 224 players, including more than 100 foreign champions, open Wednesday with 64 men competing for 16 spots in the championship bracket of 128.

The pressure is squarely on Ralston, not only to demonstrate his maturity—and with it the ability to channel his temper toward demolishing opponents instead of throwing rackets—but also to solidify American hopes of again becoming an international tennis power.

Ralston was regarded as one of the country's most promising players a few years ago, then drew a year's suspension for his temper tantrums on the court during Davis Cup eliminations.

He re-emerged as potentially one of the world's best in a spectacular display against Mexico in American Zone Davis Cup semifinals two weeks ago in Los Angeles. He beat both his Southern California roommate, Osuna, and Antonio Palafax and teamed with McKinley in beating the Mexicans who hold the Wimbledon doubles title.

Then, last week, he again teamed with McKinley in sweeping the U.S. National Doubles title at Brookline, Mass., a strong indication that the U.S. doubles team may be able to compete on equal footing with the world-dominant Australians.

the first month of the season—and none since."

Most of the other Orioles said they thought McNally was the better hitter—or swinger, at least. But there were several borderline opinions.

"There's not much difference between terrible and bad," said pitcher Mike McCormick.

Cleveland, Cincy Key Places For Amateur Golfers

By The Associated Press
Cleveland and Cincinnati were the centers of interest today for the play-for-fun golfers seeking a crack at the 1963 National Amateur Championship in a 36-hole qualifier.

The biggest field was at the lengthy Camargo Club course near Cincinnati where 69 players chiefly from Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia competed for seven berths.

At Madison Country Club in Lake County near Cleveland a field of 36 sought four final spots. The national final is set for Sept. 9 at Des Moines, Iowa.

The Cincinnati field included Kentucky amateur champ John Hayes of Lexington; Dr. Harry Duecill of Wyoming, onetime runner-up for the Ohio amateur title; Joe Miller Jr. of Hamilton and Roger McManus of Cincinnati, who reached the National Amateur semifinals five years ago.

Stock, a relief pitcher who doesn't go to bat too often, has gone 0-for-39 during his five seasons in the majors. McNally, a rookie, is 0-for-32. What's more, they're roommates.

Most pitchers like to talk about their hitting prowess. With Stock and McNally, it's almost a running word battle. Here's a sample locker room conversation:

Stock: "I concede I'm not a good hitter. But I'm improving."

McNally: "So am I. I struck out 15 times in my first 18 at bats this year—and none since."

Stock: "That's because the pitchers found out you were a dad, and they're laying the ball in there for you now."

Stock: "I was a good hitter in high school. I batted clean-up."

McNally: "You'd be a bad hitter even in high school now."

Stock: "I got a hit in Puerto Rico last winter."

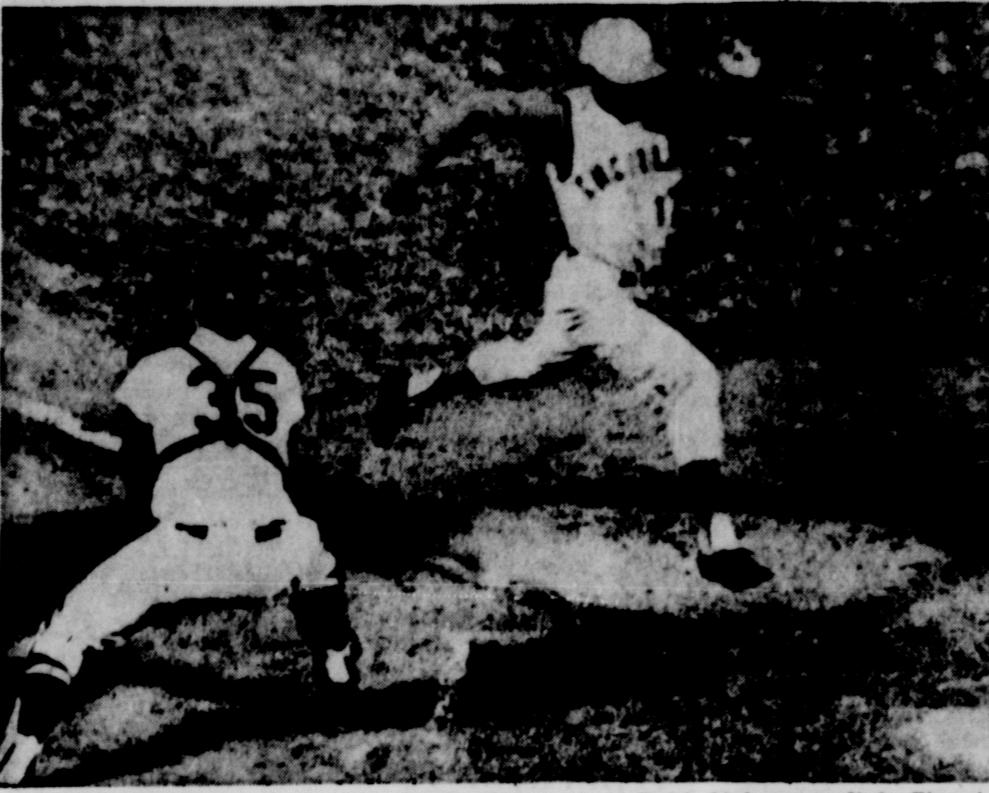

McNally: "That doesn't count. When did you get your last one?"

Stock: "In 1960, while playing for Miami. When did you get one?"

McNally: "Last May, while tied 19 games against opponents playing with Elmira. I got five in outside their conference."

It Had Its Funny Side Too

Some Bitterness Remains Over Yankee-Tribe Brawl

Gas Rate Plan Turned Down At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — Council rejected a proposed 7 per cent rate boost for the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. at a meeting Monday night at the Village Hall.

The rate boost which would have been effective for a 4-year period, was turned down 3-2 by Council.

Opposed were Councilmen Donald Lewis, Mrs. Mary Sweeney and Mrs. Kathryn Weaver. Supporting the move to approve the rate ordinance were Councilmen Gillis Earl and Clyde Polen. Four affirmative votes were received.

A move to place the ordinance on first reading was approved by a narrow margin, with Acting Mayor Orvel Tolson stepping from his presiding post to cast a vote.

The move was made by Earl and seconded by Lewis, and was authorized with Earl, Lewis, Polen and Tolson voting in favor. The two councilwomen were opposed.

Paul Temple, district manager of the utility, said prior to the vote the issue would be taken to the Ohio Public Utilities Commission where a rate increase would probably be granted. He said a higher rate would be likely to pay for the expenses of the PUC action.

In regard to village police authority in water department property at the reservoir in Carroll County, where discharge of firearms has been reported recently, Solicitor Duane Yeagley said the Board of Public Affairs could authorize the village police chief to have jurisdiction at the site.

Chief Roy Lewis was instructed to advise three village residents to clean trash and garbage from their property in 72 hours or face prosecution.

Council authorized repainting of rooms of Chief and Mrs. Lewis at the Village Hall which have been damaged as a result of the leaky roof which recently was repaired.

Hearing Set In Wellsville Police Fight

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard will have a hearing at Wellsville set Sept. 9 for a hearing on an alternative mandamus writ seeking to have Wellsville Mayor William Daugherty and Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare set aside the appointment of Gene K. Hamilton as patrolman and name Charles Amato to the post.

The petition for the writ was filed by Atty. Ben Berman on behalf of Amato, one of three officers who had been certified by the Wellsville Civil Service Commission as an eligibility list.

Hamilton was named last week to fill the vacancy in the force created with the June resignation of Joseph Heiney.

The mayor and his aide had delayed filling the post, having proposed the police force be reduced and meter attendants be employed to handle the meter duties now held by the officers.

Daugherty and Baldasare said the city would not need as many officers as a result. However, following a hearing before Judge Joel H. Sharp two weeks ago on a mandamus action seeking to have the city fill the vacancy, the judge directed the mayor and director to name an officer.

In the petition presented by Atty. Berman, he claimed the two Wellsville officials "abused their discretion" in passing up Amato who had the high grade on the Civil Service test taken Feb. 13.

Bell is completing his 35th year as superintendent, having begun his duties in 1929, the park board pointed out.

The extensive park expansion program has taken place during his superintendency, including construction of the municipal swimming pool and shelter houses and launching of various athletic programs.

In addition to Atty. Vodrey, the board is comprised of Judge Louis Tobin, president, W. Leland Thompson, secretary, and Louis Yanni.

Akron Man Fined $50

NEW CUMBERLAND — Thomas E. Sexton of Akron was fined $50 and costs for being drunk and disorderly at a hearing Monday before Squire John D. Herron. He was arrested Aug. 17 at Waterford Park race track after he bumped a flower pot from a catwalk and it narrowly missed a jockey as it fell.

times in the greenhouse complex in the past few months.

"Some could have been accidental, but there is indication that others weren't," Pelley said. "Only the groundwork in the case has been laid," he continued. Melillo is due back today.

Participating in yesterday's investigation were Chief Deputy Robert Beresford of the sheriff's department, Robert Badier of the Liverpool Township volunteer department, and Patrolman Orin Smith.

The same men probably will work with Pelley and Melillo today. They plan to start questioning employees of the firm.

Pelley said there are 69 persons employed in the operation. He commented that although they will be questioned, no suspicion is being cast on any. This phase is necessary in order to gain further background. One employee was questioned for nearly two hours Sunday by Sheriff Russell Miller. Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday evening.

Deaths and Funerals

Lisbon Man Taken At 67

LISBON — Clifford A. March of R. D. 3 died at 4:20 p. m. Monday in Salem City Hospital. He had been in failing health several years and entered the hospital yesterday. He was 67.

He was born May 22, 1886, in Madison Township, a son of John March and Nancy Booth March. Before retirement, he operated a garage and automobile agency on E. Lincoln Way for 25 years, and at one time operated a moving van and delivery service.

His wife, Mrs. Mary Lorraine March, died May 19, 1962.

He leaves a step-son, O. Dail Mason of Lisbon, and two grandsons and several nieces and nephews.

Services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Thursday at the Eells-Leggett Funeral Home, where friends may call from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m. Wednesday.

The Rev. Frank Hare of the Beaver Valley United Presbyterian Larger Parish will officiate. Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Infant Watkins

Services for Matthew Watkins, newborn son of R. Curtis Watkins and Martha Craft Watkins of Toronto, R. D. 2, were held this afternoon at the Stanley M. Turel Funeral Home in Toronto.

The Rev. Robert Richardson, pastor of the Knoxville Presbyterian Church, officiated and burial was in the church cemetery.

The infant was born in St. John's Hospital in Steubenville Monday at 4:20 a. m. and died at 5:15.

Besides the parents, the infant leaves a brother, Nathan Watkins at home; the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Dorothy Watkins of Belpre, and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Craft of Athens.

David McIntosh

David James McIntosh, 408 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, died at home at 6 a. m. today after a 10-month illness of leukemia. He was 22.

He was the son of Mrs. Jeanette Osborn McIntosh and the late Raymond Chinn China Co. has progressed to the point where clay shop operations are expected to resume Wednesday morning, the company said today.

Workmen of the Consolidated Chimney Co. of Chicago, contractor, still have about 7 to 10 days' work remaining, but it is on the outside of the stack and will not interfere with operations. The project began Thursday. The clay shop has been shut down since last Wednesday. It affected about 200 employees.

The major part of the project called for extending the chimney's height from 134 to 180 feet to increase the draft for the boilers. The chimney also is being pointed and missing bricks are being replaced.

Barring unforeseen incidents, the way will be clear for the boilers to be fired tonight at 11 and clay shop operations will resume tomorrow morning, the company said.

The extensive park expansion program has taken place during his superintendency, including construction of the municipal swimming pool and shelter houses and launching of various athletic programs.

In addition to Atty. Vodrey, the board is comprised of Judge Louis Tobin, president, W. Leland Thompson, secretary, and Louis Yanni.

Stockholders To Meet

EAST PALESTINE — The annual meeting of the stockholders of the W. S. George Pottery Co. will be held tonight at 7:30 at the American Legion Hall. All stockholders were urged to attend to help "halt outside interests from securing control" of the business, a spokesman said.

The major part of the project called for extending the chimney's height from 134 to 180 feet to increase the draft for the boilers. The chimney also is being pointed and missing bricks are being replaced.

Face Possible Prosecution

54 Students Who Defied U.S. Due Back Thursday

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Fifty-four American students, who encountered the State Department's wrath by going to Cuba and Fidel Castro's red tape in getting out, hope to leave Madrid for New York Thursday.

Another student, Barry Hoffman, 26, of Brookline, Mass., left Cuba with the group Sunday but got off the airliner in Bermuda and flew to New York Monday. A State Department agent took up his passport and the FBI questioned him. Hoffman declined to talk to newsmen.

All 55 students face possible prosecution for violating a State Department ban on unauthorized travel to Cuba.

A group of Cuban exiles greeted the Americans in Madrid with an American passport.

The students declined to talk to newsmen but one of their leaders, Levi Laub of New York, said:

"We will have plenty to say when we get home. We expect to have a public meeting, probably in New York Town Hall, in mid-September."

Of the 50 who arrived in Havana June 30 as guests of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Communist government, one, Warren Hill, 29, of Brooklyn, died July 14 while swimming in a hotel pool. Two pregnant women and the husband of one of them did not make the homeward flight because the women were expected to give birth soon.

Spanish police took two of the students into custody when they failed to produce passports. One, identified as Charles N. Buchanan, was released when police accepted a temporary passport issued by Swiss officials in Cuba after he reportedly lost his American passport.

The other student was identified as Lee Raisner. Friends said he lost his wallet containing documents.

The students were forced to take the 8,000-mile rout, instead of a 90-mile hop from Havana to Miami, because of the U.S. ban on unauthorized travel between the United States and Cuba.

The students flew to Cuba via Prague, Czechoslovakia.

The Castro government paid their transportation both ways and all expenses while they were official guests, until July 27. The students paid their own expenses after that date and some ran out of funds.

Any student convicted of violating the ban on travel to Cuba could be fined up to $5,000 and sentenced to five years in prison.

Youth, 16, Drowns

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — Stephen McCloud, 16, drowned in the Muskingum River here Monday. He had been swimming with friends, police said.

Chief's Wife Dies

CLEVELAND (AP) — Services are scheduled Thursday for Mrs. Richard R. Wagner, 50, wife of Cleveland's police chief. She died Monday after a long illness.

Cleveland Board Gets Deadline To Integrate Schools

CLEVELAND (AP) — The United Freedom Movement has set a Sept. 23 deadline for the Cleveland Board of Education to meet proposals "to undo the existing wrongs . . . resulting from segregation."

UFM leaders met with the board Monday and presented its program. Included was a demand to integrate immediately the 46 classes to be transported to other schools this fall because of crowded conditions.

The bi-racial civil rights group also asked for action by Sept. 23 on formation of a bureau of integration and human relations.

Board members decided to meet in executive session with UFM leaders as soon as possible. The UFM did not say what action it would take if its demands are not met.

School officials have maintained that any racial pattern in schools here is due to neighborhood housing patterns.

Junior Editors Quiz on SHIPWRECKS

QUESTION: Why were so many ships wrecked off Cape Hatteras?

ANSWER: Cape Hatteras is the point of a series of sandy islands which, as our map shows, project out into the Atlantic from the North Carolina coast. They are directly in the path of shipping passing up and down the coast. Of course, sea captains know their location, but there are so many dangers in this area, responsible for so many wrecks, that Hatteras has been called "the Graveyard of Ships". One danger is the famous Diamond Shoals lying out to seaward. Then, it is an area where fogs are frequent, making the low lying coast very difficult to see. Squalls of wind come with suddenness and violence and may push a ship, especially of the older sailing type, up on the shore. Once stuck in the sand, ships are usually doomed. Another danger is the existence of certain unpredictable ocean currents which at times may set toward the shore, and these, combined with fogs or squalls, are very dangerous.

Modern ships, with steam or motor power, are not usually at the mercy of the wind and so can better escape the dangers of Cape Hatteras.

FOR YOU TO DO: There is something else besides ship wrecks for which the sandy North Carolina islands are famous. Did you realize this was the location of the first airplane flight? Look up the story of the airplane or the Wright brothers and you'll get the details.

It's Far In Future

Plans For Ramp Project Pushed

Although the project apparently still is far in the future, Council enacted legislation Monday night at a special session to adopt plans for construction of a ramp to carry W. 9th St. traffic over the California Hollow-West End Freeway, eliminating a dead-end.

Council gave unanimous approval to the so-called "consent ordinance," in which it pledged the city to co-operate with the State Highway Department in the $275,000 project.

BUT THE Division 11 office of the Highway Department of New Philadelphia advised Mayor Bert H. Goodballet last week that the ramp "is listed only as a future project on our highway construction and advanced planning program for the period from Jan. 1, 1963, to June 30, 1968."

Sherman S. Price, design and planning engineer for the division office, wrote the mayor he could not "give you any assurance that it will or can be advanced to construction during that period."

Price said the ultimate cost to the city will be 5 per cent of the cost of engineering, right-of-way and construction. The cost of any required rearrangement of utilities also must be borne entirely by the city, he added.

The structure will be 270 feet long, including curbs and a sidewalk on the north side.

The "consent ordinance" includes provisions for banning parking for the whole length of the structure and a stipulation that the city will not erect traffic signals on it without prior approval from the state.

WEST END and Sunnyside groups started a movement for the ramp shortly after it became apparent that the first stage of the freeway would make a dead-end of two sections of W. 9th St., formerly a through street.

Following approval of the legislation last night, Councilman Edward Massey declared that "the people in Sunnyside certainly owe Mayor Goodballet a vote of thanks."

Massey asserted that the mayor "has worked long and hard to attempt to make this project a reality."

Councilman Kenneth Berg welcomed a four-man Sunnyside delegation that was in the audience while the enabling legislation was enacted.

Referring to the freeway and the city section of the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd., Councilman Floyd Murray said he has read that a new state law will go into effect Sept. 30, establishing a 70-mile-an-hour speed limit on all four-lane limited access highways.

HE SAID local legislation may be required to prevent the limit from being raised to 70 on the two four-lane highways in the city. He referred especially to the section of the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd. in front of Westgate School, where a 20-mile limit now is in effect.

Solicitor Joseph W. Coop told Murray he has not read the new law and does not know if it will apply in East Liverpool's case. If legislation is required, it will be presented at the next regular meeting on Sept. 9, the solicitor said.

In other business, Council approved an ordinance officially levying special assessments total-

McElroy Is Selected To Run For Recorder

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mark McElroy, former Ohio attorney general and now a member of the Cleveland School Board, has been chosen by Cuyahoga County Democratic leaders to run for county recorder to replace Frank S. Day, who resigned as recorder after a conviction for payroll fraud and forgery.

Approval of McElroy's election Monday is expected from Democratic ward leaders and the part central and executive committees.

Prayers In Schools Ruled As Illegal In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG (AP)—Voluntary prayer or Bible reading programs may not be conducted in Pennsylvania public schools, Atty. Gen. Walter E. Alessandrini ruled Monday.

The attorney general issued a 10-page official opinion to interpret the June 17 U. S. Supreme Court decision that declared the 1949 state law mandating daily reading of the Bible unconstitutional.

His opinion, as the state's nearly 2,100 school districts prepared to reopen for the fall, came as several school boards or, in some cases, parents, school officials, or teachers moved to establish Bible reading programs on their own. He said, however, that the state does not plan to stop any school from continuing the practice.

A period of silent meditation, Alessandrini ruled, is permitted, and the Bible may be studied as literature or history. Religion also may be studied objectively, he said, but:

"The ruling of the Supreme

Ohio State Fair Marks Fraternal, Service Club Day

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio State Fair, heading toward an all-time high attendance record, opened its fifth day today observing Fraternal and Service Club Day.

Attendance Monday was 42,338, bringing the four-day record figure to 320,777. Last year 39,977 persons visited the fair on the fourth day for a four-day total of 277,220.

Highlighting today's harness racing program is the $29,000 Buckeye State Pace for 2-year-olds. In Monday's featured race, the $22,800 Ohio State Trot, Speedy Count trotted the half-mile track in 2:05.

Opening a two-day stand in the entertainment segment today is popular singer Johnny Mathis.

Gov. James A. Rhodes, who appeared at the fair again Monday afternoon for Crippled Children's Day, returned in the evening for the commercial cattle sale.

The grand champion steer, owned by young Howard Miller of Luckey in Wood County, sold for 83 cents a pound. The 1,070-pound Black Angus brought $888.10.

Over all, 113 head of cattle were sold for a total $30,991.

Parolee's Sentenced To Jail In Check Case

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A parolee from Ohio Penitentiary has been sentenced to 31 days in jail on charges of forging and cashing a $79 check which had been taken from a woman's mailbox last February.

George W. Holland, paroled after serving seven years of a 1-20-year sentence for forgery, pleading guilty. He was sentenced Monday. Authorities said Holland probably will be returned to Ohio upon completion of his sentence.

Veteran Actor Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Larry Keating, 67, veteran character actor who appeared in movies television and radio, died Monday of leukemia. Keating had been ill about six months but continued performing as a regular in the cast of television's "Mr. Ed" until last week. He was born in St. Paul, Minn.
